Twenty-five Hundred Filipinos Attacked and Scattered After a Fierce Fight—The Victorious Forces Lose Only Two Men Killed and Twelve Wounded—Capt. Anglum Defeats a Band North of Poroc.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

MANILA, Aug. 16.—5:20 p.m.—[By Manila Cable.]—The insurgents have been concentrating two days before Angeles. It is officially announced that Col. Smith, with ten companies of the Twelfth Regiment and two guns of Battery E of the first Artillery, under Lieut. Kemley, this morning attacked 2500 strongly-entrenched insurgents at the southern approach to Angeles and drove them back after a sharp fight, the American troops losing two men killed and twelve wounded. The insurgent loss was estimated at 200 men. The American forces will hold Angeles.

About two hundred insurgents appeared this morning in front of Dolores, a short distance north of Poroc, but they were driven off by one company of the Twelfth Regiment, under command of Capt. Anglum. One American was wounded.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A Journal dispatch from Manila says: "The Filipinos sustained a severe defeat before Angeles today. They were worsted and driven away in disorder. The Twelfth Regiment occupied Angeles, and is holding the town."

The Official Report.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Another sharp engagement between Gen. MacArthur's command and the insurgents was reported to the War Department today, in the following dispatch from Gen. Otis:
"MANILA, Aug. 16.—Adjutant-General, Washington.—MacArthur's troops occupying country from Candalia to a point near Angeles, thence toward Poroc, taking within his line Santa Rita, Guagua, Bacolor. Col. Smith, with ten companies Twelfth Infantry and two guns First Artillery, attacked today enemy entrenched on the outskirts of Angeles, estimated at 2500, driving them to the north and inflicting upon them reported loss of 200 killed and wounded; our loss two killed and twelve wounded.
"On the 11th inst., Gen. Young's troops, consisting detachment of the Fourth Cavalry, Twenty-first Infantry, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Infantry, drove insurgents northeast of Manila, through Marquina, San Mateo, into mountains, returning following day. Column of insurgents, five hundred strong, descending road east of Baliuag for the purpose of taking railway, driven by our Baliuag and Quingua troops and routed yesterday. This force in full retreat northward, carrying number of their officers. Angeles will be permanently occupied at once.
[Signed] "OTIS."

Later Particulars.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MANILA, Aug. 17, 8 a.m.—The Twelfth Infantry left Calulit at sunrise, today, and advanced up the railway. Capt. Evans's battalion deployed to the right of the track and Capt. Woods to the left. Two companies remained on the track with the artillery. The insurgents were found well intrenched in front of the town, the trenches having been dug within a few days and since the occupation of Calulit.
At a distance of 1500 yards the Filipinos opened fire. Their forces were estimated by Col. Smith at 1500, although the residents afterward said it exceeded those figures by a thousand. The enemy sent heavy volleys against the whole American line. Most of their shooting, as usual, was high, but they concentrated their heaviest fire down the track upon the artillery.
Col. Smith kept the whole line moving rapidly, with frequent rushes. The insurgents attempted to flank Capt. Evans, and therefore two companies were sent to the right and drove them back.
Unable to stand our continuous volleys, the Filipinos abandoned the trenches and retreated northward. It appears that they had only received their supply of ammunition this morning. Had they been attacked sooner they could have made little resistance. The intense heat caused much suffering among the Americans.
A reporter of the Manila Times, who was accompanying

Col. Smith was shot in the head. One American officer received a slight wound in the face. Lieut. Howland of Gen. Wheaton's staff, who knew the country thoroughly, as the result of reconnaissance, and who assisted in directing the movement, received a volley while riding across a field close to the trenches, but he escaped unharmed.

STRIKE A HEAVY BLOW.
PLANS FOR A SUDDEN ENDING OF THE HOSTILITIES.

The Ten Additional Regiments to Be Landed at Manila by the Time the Dry Season Opens—Four Transports Chartered.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Secretary Root has been in consultation with the officers of the Quartermaster's Department with a view to inspecting the movement of the Philippine reinforcements, and as a result he, this afternoon, directed that four additional transports be chartered. They are the Pueblo, Belgian King, Columbia and Charles E. Nelson. These four ships have a capacity of 2500 men.

The Pueblo is now at San Francisco, and the Columbia at Portland. The other two vessels are expected to arrive at San Francisco in about ten days, and it is expected that all of them will be ready to sail for Manila by September 10.

It is Secretary Root's desire that the entire body of the reinforcements for Gen. Otis's army may reach the Philippines for service during the month of October at the latest, and he has been negotiating for additional ships. It is now believed that all of the ten regiments will have landed at Manila by the time the dry season opens.

A short and successful campaign of this new army would, of course, obviate the necessity of sending any additional volunteers to the Philippines, and the plans under consideration at the War Department are said to be predicated on that idea, it being the intention that whatever troops may be recruited shall be held in reserve for possible contingencies.

MULE TRANSPORTERS KICK.
[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

TACOMA, Aug. 16.—The quartermaster and petty officers of the steamer Port Albert, recently chartered to transport mules from this city to Manila, threaten to libel the ship and to delay her sailing if wages paid on American ships be not paid them. They shipped under a British charter for two years at lower wages.

FOUR ADDITIONAL TRANSPORTS.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Secretary Root has directed that four additional transports be chartered. They are the Pueblo, Belgian King, Columbia and Charles E. Nelson. They can carry 2500 men. All will be ready to sail for Manila by September 10.

BLAZE OF GLORY.
California Volunteers' Reception to Be a Brilliant Success.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Over $25,000 is now on hand to defray the expenses of receiving the California volunteers, and this sum may be doubled before their arrival. The plan to decorate Market street with palms and evergreens has proved a much greater success than its projectors had expected. Every city that was asked to contribute evergreens responded with a will, and the supply will be equal to the demand.

The naval parade, it is calculated, will induce at least 10,000 people to go out on the bay to greet the soldiers. The Harbor Commissioners, who are arranging the details, have secured ample accommodations for all who desire to take the trip on the water. The plan of the Executive Committee to secure work for the returning troops, meets with much favor.

NEW FEATURES.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Every day new features are added to the plan for the reception of the volunteers, and there is no doubt that the demonstration will exceed in many respects anything of the kind ever undertaken west of the Rockies. It is calculated that not less than $20,000 will be expended for the pyrotechnic display alone. There will be a gorgeous display on the bay also. The association of the relatives and parents of the First California Regiment has decided to give the boys something to eat on the night of their arrival. There will be 1500 lunches, each put up separately. The latter have been donated.

Redwood and palm trees for the decoration of the streets will begin to arrive from all parts of the State. The Committee on the Memorial Service, to take place September 2, request relatives and friends to send the name of all California soldiers who have lost their lives in Manila to the headquarters of the Red Cross Society in this city.

FOOD FOR PHILIPPINES.
Commissary Department Providing Subsistence for New Army.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The Commissary Department is now working busily to provide for order and subsistence for the new army of the Philippines. The bulk of the material must be purchased in this country and shipped from San Francisco.

When it is realized that 200,000 pounds of food will be consumed every day by the men in the Philippines some idea can be gained of the quantities which will have to be provided for. The first order for 50,000 men has been made up. This is only preliminary and similar orders will follow so there will be no intermission in the supplies.

CARRIED MANY WOUNDED.
Del Pilar's Men Suffered Heavily in the Bustos Fight.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MANILA, Aug. 16.—[By Manila Cable.] Maj. Kirkman, on entering Santa Maria and Depaya today with a reconnoitering party, learned that after the fight with Gen. Del Pilar's men near Bustos, about 320 insurgents retreated north, carrying many wounded, including five officers.

RETURNING SOLDIERS.
Passenger Association Decides on Rates and Routes.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The California Passenger Association, in which are combined all the lines having agencies in this city, has decided to route homeward-bound soldiers on the most direct lines between San Francisco and their places of residence. All the lines will hold to a rate of $37.50 for second class from here to the Missouri River.

DYNAMITE GUNS.
They Will Be Sent to Gen. Otis Via Hongkong.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was stated at the War Department today that a vessel has been secured in New York to carry to the Philippines the Sims-Dudley dynamite guns recently procured for Gen. Otis's army and the ammunition for their use. The War Department has experienced considerable difficulty in Safe Arrival of Gallant Colorado Troops.

Transport Warren Anchors With Its Precious Cargo.

Major and Associate Justices Young With Them.

Men in Excellent Health and Spirits, Gov. Thomas and Home Delegation Meet the Steamer—Enthusiastic Welcome.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Gaily dressed with lines of many-colored flags, the United States transport Warren arrived at this port at 5 o'clock this afternoon, having on board the First Colorado Regiment of volunteers, back from the campaign in the Philippines.

The regiment, commanded by Col. McCoy, returns with forty-six officers and 924 men, about 250 less than the number who sailed from San Francisco last year. Just before the regiment departed from Manila, thirty-five of the First Colorado Regiment enlisted in the Thirty-sixth Regiment of volunteers, which was formed in the Philippines. Two deaths occurred after the Warren left Yokohama. These were Private Ivan Tinnerholm, Co. H, and Private Lindsay, Co. L. Private Tinnerholm died of typhoid fever, and Private Lindsay succumbed to an attack of dysentery. The remains of these two soldiers were buried at sea.

In addition to the Colorado regiment, the Warren also brought from the Philippines 129 discharged soldiers, comprising 50 from the Sixth Light Artillery, 50 from the Engineer Corps and 29 states and nurses from the various hospital corps. About forty of the men on board are suffering from dysentery. Two of these are so seriously ill that they will have to be taken to the hospital as soon as the transport docks. These are Corp. Demorse and Private Johnson.

Brig.-Gen. Hale left Manila on the Warren, but at Yokohama he left the transport and took passage in the steamer Doric. Capt. Booth, formerly of the Colorado regiment, but recently appointed to a commission in the newly-organized Thirty-sixth Regiment, will spend three months' furlough at his home. Other returning officers on the Warren are former Maj. Young of the Utah Battery, now one of the Associate Chief Justices of the Philippines, and Capt. P. B. Strong, who was on Gen. MacArthur's staff, and who is a son of former Mayor Strong of New York. His father and brother came here to meet him. Rough and perilous as was the trip from Manila to Nagasaki, the remainder of the voyage was exceedingly pleasant. The men appear to be in fine form and good spirits, their appearance indicating a better state of health than has been shown by any of the regiments who have previously returned, with the exception of the Pennsylvania boys. They have unanimously expressed their desire to be mustered out in San Francisco.

As soon as the Warren dropped anchor in the bay, this evening, she was boarded by the quarantine officer. After his inspection was satisfactorily concluded the Colorado delegation, which had come to welcome the returning volunteers of its State, with Gov. Thomas at its head, went out in tug to meet the transport. The meeting between the Governor and his party and the returning soldiers was enthusiastic, and all the steamers in the bay, as well as every factory whistle in the city, tooted a joyous, though discordant greeting.

ARTILLERYMEN PAID OFF.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The Utah artillerymen were paid off today, and tomorrow they will start for Salt Lake. Each man was given his discharge as he received his money, two months' pay, the balance due on his clothing account, besides travel pay to his home in Utah, amounting to about $100 each. The pay of the officers for three months was held back until their accounts shall have been verified. The special train bearing the Utah men home will leave Oakland tomorrow afternoon.

SECRETARY HAY CALLS.
He Confers With the President on Affairs of State.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PLATTSBURG (N. Y.), Aug. 16.—Secretary of State Hay was seen by the correspondent of the Associated Press immediately after his talk with President McKinley, which occupied two hours. He said that a large number of matters were being given to him to talk with the President, being the accumulation of three weeks, but that there was nothing of importance to be given out for publication.

The Secretary afterward had a short talk with Smith M. Weed in regard to affairs in Santo Domingo, where Weed has large property interests. Secretary Hay will leave here for his summer home in Newbury, N. H., today, and will not return to Washington for several weeks.

Judge Brakeman Welcomes Strangers—Vice-President McConnell Makes a Speech—May Krider Handles the Maul.

Train Dispatcher Nearly Causes a Wreck—Cooling Oil Companies Incorporating—A Trojan's Presidential Pardon.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] KINGMAN (Ariz.), Aug. 16.—The big silver-lead camp of Chloride, is all excitement and enthusiasm today over the completion of the Arizona and Utah Railroad. Visitors from all over the country have been coming in there since late last night, and this morning a trainload left Kingman to see the last spike driven to connect the camp with the Santa Fe trunk line.

The visitors were welcomed to Chloride by Judge Wilbur Brakeman, after which Vice-President McConnell spoke of the great advantage the railroad would be to the camp in the marketing of ores. Miss May Krider, a beautiful young lady, had been elected to drive the silver spike, and after Vice-President McConnell's speech, she was brought forward and presented. The usual spike maul was used, and with a few well-directed blows Miss Krider drove the spike home, amid great cheering. The visitors were taken in stages and carriages through the old town of Chloride, where the programme is to be completed. The town is in gala attire, and the people have arranged for two days of sport in commemoration of the event.

AN OPERATOR'S ERROR. Close Call for Two Trains Yesterday Morning at Armory Point.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SUISUN, Aug. 16.—What might have proved a disastrous train wreck was fortunately averted early this morning at Armory Point, a short distance north of Benicia. A special train bound west and timed to arrive at Suisun at 2 a.m., had orders at Elmira to meet the east-bound freight at Benicia.

This order was afterward changed, and Charles Vose, the night operator at Suisun received orders for the west-bound freight train to meet the other train at Goodyear station instead of at Benicia. Goodyear is located half way between Suisun and Benicia. Vose failed to give the order on the arrival of the train at Suisun, and the conductor pulled out, thinking the place of meeting was Benicia. On reaching Armory Point, the engineers of the respective trains observed each other's lights and instantly realized the danger. The engines were reversed, air-brakes were applied, and the two trains and firemen jumped. The trains came within close proximity without striking. The avoidance of a disastrous collision is regarded as nothing short of a miracle. Vose states that he forgot to deliver the order, and realizing his grave mistake, at once telegraphed his resignation to the company.

TRAJAN SET LOOSE. The President Pardons the Victim of a Personal Feud.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] OAKLAND, Aug. 16.—Joshua Aulitte, former State Organizer for the Order of Modern Trojans, who is serving a sentence in the County Jail for sending an improper letter through the mails, has been pardoned by President McKinley, and will be released as soon as the pardon arrives from Washington. He will be banished by the Trojans and reinstated in the position he held in the society.

It was claimed that he was the victim of a plot, and that he imprudently mailed a plainly worded letter in response to one much more abusive, which was sent to him by a messenger.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] JOHANNESBURG, Aug. 16.—By South African Cable.] The Star says the government of the South African Republic will reject the proposal of the British Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, to submit to a joint commission of inquiry the franchise controversy, but has prepared a new statement.

EMERGENCY FORCE. British War Office Makes Preparations for Thirty Thousand Men.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] LONDON, Aug. 16.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Transvaal situation is unchanged, according to all obtainable information, but the continued delay by the Boers' answer to Great Britain's demand for a joint inquiry as to the effect upon the Outlanders of the proposed franchise-reform measures makes matters look more serious.

The War Office has completed its preparations for an emergency force of 30,000 men, to be ready to leave within a week. Fast steamers for their transportation are awaiting orders. It is said that Grenadier Guards, now at Gibraltar, and the Twenty-First Lancers, now in Egypt, may be sent to South Africa. arranging for the transportation of these guns and dynamite. It was considered inadvisable to send them on the army troops, and freighters refused to carry them from San Francisco.

The name of the transportation company and the vessel have been withheld by the Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, but it is said that the vessel will carry the ordnance from New York to Hongkong, and it will then be conveyed to Manila by another vessel.

RELIEF FOR PORTO RICO. Gen. Davis Supplying All Accessible Points in Stores.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The appalling conditions existing in Porto Rico were made more fully known to the War Department today by Gen. Davis in a dispatch which says the deaths outright in the island will reach 8000, while many are dying daily from injuries and privations. Gen. Davis adds: "Dry split peas are very acceptable. Canned peas involve too much transportation in proportion to nutriment, but can be used near seacoast, although there is much destruction of the interior, and deaths are occurring from lack of food. Will not be possible to reach those points with packs before next week, for in many cases the roads and rails are so destroyed that only men on foot can get to and from those districts. The stores coming on McPherson will be in time. I am supplying most pressing needs at all accessible points with stores now on hand.

"So great is the destruction of roads that there is no communication yet with one-third of the island. The commanding officer at each of twelve posts is inspector of relief for this district, and he has detailed a man in every municipality, collecting data and relieving most pressing needs. I have furnished each inspector with similar funds, and given authority to issue food from army supplies. One soldier died of injuries, others injured will recover.

"A great many wagons are overturned and broken, but all are being repaired. Many thousands private cattle and horses have been drowned. The larger part of deaths are those of natives, from drownings.

RECORD OF RUIN. [A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A dispatch to the Herald from San Juan says that communication with the distressed districts is still only partly open. Arceibo was devastated by the hurricane and later was flooded by the Arceibo and Manito rivers. Two hundred people have already been regained and hundreds more are missing. It is thought they were swept into the sea. The town was flooded to a depth of six feet.

After the water subsided the dead were found lying everywhere. The bodies were buried on the spots where they were found. The towns were rapidly filling up with starving persons from the country. Only four soldiers were drowned, but many were out of shelter. Capt. McCombs and his men did valiant service in saving human life. Forty persons were rescued from floating wreckage. A thousand head of cattle were lost here.

At Naranjo twenty persons are known to have been killed. A thousand are homeless and starving. Moravia is totally destroyed. At Ciales twenty persons were killed. Many are missing at Barceloneta. Several residents were killed. At Cayey the death roll is at least ninety.

It is impossible to estimate the loss of life and property in the country districts. Every river is said to have a passage is well nigh impossible. The crops are totally destroyed. Children are dying by the hundreds from starvation and exposure. All the people are flocking to Bayamon for food and shelter.

A courier has just arrived from Yabucoa. He says that the town was demolished by the storm. Already eighty bodies have been recovered, and it is estimated that two hundred perished. Many are wounded. Medical assistance is scarce all parts of the island. What makes the present distress greater is the fact that a month ago all public improvements were stopped on account of the drought. A renewal of public works would be a great joy. Many planters and merchants are ruined and cannot give employment.

Gen. Davis says the latest reports show the distress to be greater than he had anticipated and expands over the whole island. He is doing everything in his power to alleviate the suffering. Mayaguez is suffering but slightly. Many vessels in the harbor are ashore.

QUEEN REGENT'S JEWELS

CAPITALIST MOFFAT OF DENVER BUYS SPANISH DIAMONDS.

A Sixty-thousand-dollar Necklace for His Wife and a Forty-thousand-dollar Tiara for His Niece Purchased Through Agents—Relics of the Late War.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] David H. Moffat, the capitalist of Denver, is now the owner of two of the famous jewels of the Queen Regent of Spain, and in future one of them will adorn the person of his wife and the other will be displayed. The most valuable is the beautiful diamond necklace, for which Moffat is said to have given $60,000, and the other is a handsome tiara, for which $40,000 was paid. It was the necklace that was given to Mrs. Moffat, and the tiara to a niece. During the war the Queen Regent parted with many of her jewels, and gave the proceeds of the sale to the cause of her beloved Spain. Moffat was abroad recently, and hearing of the jewels, had them traced down and purchased through an agent. He said nothing of his purchase until a few evenings ago, when, in the midst of a little entertainment to which he invited friends, he produced and presented them to his relatives.

CAN SELL FIREARMS.

For Traders Permitted to Supply Them to Indians. [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Secretary of the Interior has rendered a decision which, it is said, modifies one section of the law enacted at the last session of Congress for the government of the Territory of Alaska, which prohibits the sale of firearms to Alaskan Indians.

H. Lieb & Co., and the Cape Smythe Whaling and Trading Company, both of San Francisco, asked permission to sell firearms and ammunition to the Indians at their station in Alaska. They said in the application to the Secretary of the Interior that the companies dealt in furs; that firearms are necessary to the Indians as a means of obtaining subsistence, and that the companies had hired and sold firearms to such persons without objection from the government.

OFFICIAL PROGRAMME.

NAVY DEPARTMENT ARRANGING A GRAND RECEPTION.

Admiral Dewey to Be Met by North Atlantic Squadron Shortly Before Reaching New York—The Army's Part in the Celebration.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A special to the Herald from Washington says that orders have been issued by Acting Secretary Allen to Capt. Robley D. Evans, who commanded the battleship Iowa during the war with Spain, directing him to confer with the Dewey Reception Committee of New York and with Rear-Admiral Sampson respecting the home coming of Admiral Dewey. Rear-Admiral Sampson has been directed to prepare a programme for the ships of his squadron in the reception of the admiral, which will be formally approved by the department. Admiral Sampson is also expected to confer with the Reception Committee of New York, so that there may be no confusion.

It seems to have been finally decided that the North Atlantic squadron will go aboard to meet the Olympia, but that the admiral will be requested to send to the department before leaving the Azores notice of the exact route which he will take in crossing the Atlantic, so that Admiral Sampson's command may meet him perhaps a day's sail from New York. This, however, is a detail upon which Admiral Sampson will report.

The entire squadron will be assembled to honor the admiral, and when it falls in with the Olympia will consist of seventeen guns and the drums will give four ruffles and flourishes. Admiral Sampson is entitled to a salute of thirteen guns, and will be expected to make the first call upon Dewey, who will return it, and the vessel will proceed to New York.

It is expected that the War Department will assign a military officer to arrange with the New York committee for the participation of the army in the celebration. Up to this time no selection has been made. It is expected that the Dolphin will meet the Olympia in the outer bay with the sub-committee on board.

It is believed the admiral will give an official reception before leaving for Florence.

SANTO DOMINGO REBELLION.

Defeat of the Jimenez Forces May Not End It.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A dispatch to the Herald from Cape Haytien says that the defeat of the Jimenez forces in Santo Domingo by the government troops under Gen. Escobedo is not likely to end the insurrection. It is reported that the loss on both sides was large, and according to the government authorities the fight of the rebels developed into a massacre.

Two thousand government troops are expected at Monte Christo. Money, arms and ammunition are being forwarded by the insurgents. The American warship Independence was at Cape Haytien Tuesday, and reports quiet everywhere. The Haytien authorities prevented the landing of Gens. Candalaria, de las Casas and Avila from the German steamer Venetia from St. Thomas.

EARLY MORNING REPORT.] JACKSONVILLE (Fla.), Aug. 16.—A Tampa dispatch to the Times-Union and Citizen says that the cigar factory of Jose Rivera from which it has been seized by the revenue officials. About 18,000 unstamped cigars captured on the streets Friday night are alleged to have come from Rivera's factory, and to have been en route to another factory.

A seizure of 18,000 cigars was also made at San Martin & Co.'s factory after the Rivera factory was closed. The cigars said to have been a part of the same lot of 18,000 previously captured.

BLOW ON THE JAW.

JIM FRANEY OF CINCINNATI TAKES IT SERIOUSLY.

Frank McConnell of San Francisco Administers the Punishment in the Arena of the National Athletic Club.

The Beaten Pugilist Taken to the Receiving Hospital Suffering from Concussion and May not Recover.

Cleveland Shut Out Until the Ninth. Reiff and "Skeets" Martin Win Races—Ontwentsia Golf.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The National Athletic Club gave a first-class boxing show at Woodward's Pavilion tonight before a large audience.

Frank McConnell of San Francisco and Jim Franey of Cincinnati, middleweights, furnished the star attraction. McConnell won in the fourteenth round by knocking out Franey with a terrific right-hand blow on the jaw.

A long argument followed the entrance of Franey and McConnell into the ring. It was over the question as to whether they should break away clean, or fight strictly according to the Queensbury rules. Franey maintained the right to use the latter style of fighting, while McConnell wanted to break clean. A compromise was effected, and the men agreed to break at the referee's command. In the first round, however, both men fought viciously in the clinches, and as no protest was made against it they were allowed to continue it.

Franey showed to better advantage at close range for the first few rounds, but McConnell soon solved his style and paid him back as good as he gave. It was a very even contest until the end came, with the exception of two or three rounds, which were in McConnell's favor.

In a hot mix-up in the fourteenth round McConnell landed his right on Franey's jaw as they broke away, causing the latter to stagger against the ropes. McConnell followed up his advantage, and knocked Franey down twice before he administered the knockout blow. Franey fell with great force on his face, and was counted out and then carried to his corner.

Jack Kane and Doc Flynn, lightweights, put up a rattling ten-round contest. Kane being awarded the verdict because of his aggressiveness and clean style of fighting. The decision was popular. Kane forced the pace all through, and was much cleaner in his blows. Flynn was awarded the decision over Kane some time ago, and the latter has since wanted an opportunity to reverse matters, which he did tonight. Jack Ennis was given the decision over Jimmy McMahon at the end of a lively ten-round bout.

FRANEY PROBABLY DYING. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Franey, who was knocked out by McConnell last night, had not recovered consciousness at 1:50 o'clock this morning. He is at the City Receiving hospital, where he was removed after night.

At 2 o'clock, the condition of Franey was extremely precarious. Extreme unconsciousness, extreme weakness, and a very faint pulse were the only signs of life. The attending physicians at the City Receiving hospital, where he was removed after night, were unable to say whether his condition is the result of a blow from his opponent, or whether it was caused by the contact of his head with the floor, as he fell in the final round. They have diagnosed his case as one of severe concussion of the brain and give out no hope of a successful rally. Franey is entirely unconscious, and has remained in that condition since he was removed from the arena, with the exception of a few moments when he revived sufficiently to lift his hands to his head and mumble a few unintelligible words. All of the doctors in attendance, this was in Woodward's Pavilion, about fifteen minutes after the last blow was struck. Then he relapsed into a state of unconsciousness, from which there seems little probability of his emerging.

As soon as his critical condition became manifest, the police arrested all of those who participated in the glove contest as follows: Frank McConnell, the principal who delivered the knock-out blow; Tim McGrath and John Murphy, McConnell's seconds; Hiram Cook, referee, and Frank Marston, Danny Needham and E. G. Tweedie, seconds and trainers of Franey. All of these are being detained at the City Prison pending the result of Franey's injuries, and no formal charges have yet been entered against them.

Officers have been sent out for J. D. Gibbs and J. J. Groom of the National Athletic Club, promoters of the fight, who will also be taken into custody. The expected tragic sequel of the fight has caused much excitement among sporting men, who admit that if Franey dies, there will be a strong revision of public sentiment in this community against prize-fighting.

GENTRY STILL KING. Great Pacing Stallion Wins Again at Rochester Track.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] ROCHESTER (N. Y.), Aug. 16.—The little bay stallion John R. Gentry is still king of the light-harness racers. At the Rochester Driving Park this afternoon the greatest of the great, the champion of the American turf, John R. Gentry (2:04½), waged a battle royal for the supremacy. The attendance was 8000. The track was very fast, and, although there was a slight breeze down the home stretch, it did not seem to hold the racers as they turned into the stretch and headed for the wire. The first heat was the best of the season.

The owner of Patchen, W. S. Haws, at the last moment decided to drive in place of Dickerson. The scoring was perfect, and at the fourth attempt the horse started the race of their lives. At the half-mile Gentry forged ahead and won by nearly a length and a half. After the race was over W. H. Hartman, officiating, announced that he was ready to match Searchlight against Gentry for $10,000, the race to take place at any time within the present week.

Special stallion race: John R. Gentry, brs. (W. J. Andress) 2 1 3. Searchlight, brs. (McCarthy) 2 1 3. Joe Patchen blks. (W. S. Haws) 2 1 3. Time 2:03 ½, 2:04 ½.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] GLENS FALLS (N. Y.), Aug. 16.—The second day of the grand circuit races was marked by fast racing, with well-filled fields on a perfect track and under a cloudless sky. The attendance was over five thousand. The first event on the card was the unfinished 2:28 trot, which was easily won by Paul Pry. Just previous to the final heat, while Ven Meter was working out Paul Pry, the horse tumbled backward on the sulkey, totally demolishing it, but not injuring himself or the driver.

The Queen, ruling favorite in yesterday's betting, did not start today on account of lameness.

The first two heats of the 2:04 pace were exceedingly close, Anacanda leading under the wire, with Chelialis and Bogash less than a length behind. At the opening Bogash sold at $50 and the field at $25. After the first heat Anacanda was $25 and the field at $17. In the 2:24 trot, Owyhee sold for $60, Royal Baron $50, George Carney $15, million sold $10. Breeze Boy and The Shah $40 each, field $25. SANTA ROSA RACES. Alto Rio Meets With Severe Accident in a Tryout.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SANTA ROSA, Aug. 16.—The first event of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association meet today was a match race between A. T. Jackson's broken Prince and the Santa Rosa Steeplechase bay mare, Precita. Jackson was his own driver, and Bob Able was up behind Precita. The mare took the first heat in 2:26, but in the second both horses acted badly and the Prince scored in 2:38. The third heat and race went to Precita, who finished after several bad breaks in 2:40.

All of the other races were closely contested. "Alto Rio, a full brother to Del Norte and Chelialis (2:09 ½), who is under lease to H. Hellman for two years, broke one of the bones in his left hind leg this morning on the track during the tryout. REBEL DEFEAT.

Slaughter Resembled a Massacre.

PUERTO PLATA (Santo Domingo), Aug. 16.—The government troops commanded by Gen. Escobedo have defeated the insurgents. The engagement is considered by the government as decisively ending the Jimenez uprising. The dominicans almost without exception favor the use of American money.

Everywhere the superiority of the American system of government and the organization of her banking and similar institutions is recognized as the most satisfactory of any in the Western Hemisphere. Comparison also shows the immense physical superiority of the American people. But of recent years it has been constantly growing more evident that the same indulgences and pleasures as have degraded all of the Latin races are doing like results among the young and middle-aged men of this country. The pace at which we live will naturally tend to make the downward rush more sudden and more terrible. Every man owes it not alone to himself and his family, but to this country as well, to avail of the advice of Dr. Sterling and Co., 345 So. Spring street, Los Angeles, at the first intimation of any weakening of his powers. These physicians are able, sure and safely, without any breach of confidence, to restore you to full health and strength, to restore you to the vigor and the sturdy, strong manhood to which you aspire.

HE IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE

This Conclusion the Result of Scientific Investigation at Johns Hopkins University—Confirmed by Observation and Experience of Other Scientists.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

BALTIMORE (Md.) Aug. 8.—The Johns Hopkins Hospital laboratory is one of the finest equipped institutions of its kind in the country, and it is in charge of the most skillful men to had. Just now the scientists in this institution are trying to prove that the mosquito—that pestiferous little insect that thrives in the East and that the West knows not of—is responsible for the suppread of malaria. Malaria is one of the most deadly diseases known to man. It makes one shiver on a hot day and feel mean on any sort of day. It gets into the system and stays there for weeks. Quinine pills are the regular medicine, and quinine pills are almost as bad as the disease itself. It has been discovered that mosquitoes have a deadly malaria in their blood, and are constantly in condition of shaking it. This has been proven by microscopic examinations. If they really do have malaria all the time it is little wonder that the scientists at Johns Hopkins have entered into this investigation in the most peculiar way. Mosquitoes are to be found plentifully in the city, especially along the Potomac River. The scientists go into the low lands on hot days and let mosquitoes light on their ankles. Then they catch the insects in little glass jars and examine their blood. It is effected while the mosquito is stinging the investigator—and take them to the hospital. At the hospital the mosquitoes are kept in little glass cages where they will live for several days if left alone. But they are fed malarial germs from the hospital stock of cultures. Then the next step is to water the germs. Then the next step is to water and see what happens. The scientists have found thus far that as soon as these germs reach the stomachs of the mosquitoes they multiply with astonishing rapidity. This is ascertained by killing the mosquitoes after a germ dies.

of from one to ten days, and making an examination of the stomach. One germ fed to a good, healthy mosquito, has been found, will in the course of very few days, produce many hundreds of other germs, and these, in turn, go on producing germs till the mosquito is nothing but malaria and his sting upon a human being is very apt to bring on mosquitoes are malaria germ-breeders and they feed their germs to persons by injecting them into the flesh when they sting.

But the investigation proceeds even a little further than this. When the scientist gets his mosquito and gets him fairly loaded with malarial germs the mosquito has the power of inoculating persons or living things with malaria. The scientists have arrived at the conclusion that the mosquito has this power, and the test was made on the basis of the germ-laden mosquito was placed under the feathers of a crow. The mosquito stung the crow and there was a slight fever. The next day the mosquito stings anything. Pretty soon the crow had malaria.

Dr. H. H. Henshaw has prepared a paper on this interesting subject and in the paper he says:

"Mosquitoes invariably exist in large numbers in regions where malaria is now more prevalent at those periods when mosquitoes are most abundant; they are particularly numerous in the regions about swamps and marshes, where the danger of infection is greatest. In a malarious region the greatest risk is incurred when at about sundown and at night, but sundown and night are periods when the mosquitoes are most numerous. The danger of infection are greater near the ground than in elevated positions, but the mosquitoes are more active and more numerous near the ground."

"Emin Pasha was so convinced that the bite of the mosquito played an important part in the etiology of malarial fever in Africa that he always traveled with a mosquito net, and escaped the disease. Bignami, furthermore, has noted that in certain parts of Italy where workmen live in colonies could sleep without a mosquito net, the mountains malaria stops at the V. point where no mosquitoes are to be found. Indeed, malaria diminishes with the mosquitoes. At those times of the year when there are many mosquitoes malaria is more severe.

"The natives of Usambara Mountain often acquire the disease when they descend into the lowlands. They believe it to be due to the bites of the mos-

The Johns Hopkins scientists have arrived at a conclusion about malaria. It is this: That malaria cannot be acquired by drinking impure water or by eating impure food, and that it cannot be acquired by inhalation through the pores of the skin. Therefore they believe that every mosquito bite is an injection of malaria germs.

at all—the bites cause them no pain and there is no swelling. Such people do not have malaria, which is another peculiar feature of this interesting study. EDWARD S. LITTLE.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The San José Mercury records a saloon fight over the cursed nickel-in-the-slot machine, in which two men were seriously hurt, and will have to stand fine or imprisonment. The quarrel arose over the well-known failure of the machine to "pay out" when the player had won. This feature of the thing would condemn it with gamblers themselves, and yet thousands of young men patronize it nightly in such a select community as San José claims to be. All the State is looking to see that town drive this curse from her streets.

The fact that 900 inches of water have been developed in and around San Bernardino in the past year, and the additional fact that the need there is so great, ought to stimulate the property-holders in and about that town to renewed efforts to place the city above future famine, as great as that which now threatens it. The one and only solvent of the perplexing condition now over the people of that locality is to dig and develop water, and then dig again and develop still more. This is a crucial test through which they are courageously passing.

Over 600,000 brick made in the city of Santa Ana are to be put into buildings in that town in the coming fall season. It is likely that long-headed men who read such things will be favorably impressed with a country where, in a confessedly dry season profits on fruit crops and their products will warrant such outlay. The timorous, the halting and the weak-kneed do not take such things into consideration, and it is as well they do not, for such men are not an unlooked blessing in any community, but the wideawake investor will see more poetry in the big kiln of bricks than was ever collated in the Yosemite, and that is saying a great deal.

Santa Ana is loading a railroad car with evergreens, palms, etc., for decorating the streets of San Francisco in honor of the First California Volunteer Infantry on its return from Manila. This is no doubt a labor of love, as it should be, and the very choicest material will doubtless be sent. Who shall tell the prayers and loving yearnings of the wife and mother hearts as they cut and pack these beautiful emblems of the evergreen love the donors have for the brave men returning. It is altogether a fitting tribute to the men from the southern end of the State, and they will not fail to recognize among the fir and cedar of the north the palms and ferns of the Sunny South, and bless the hearts that sent them.

"Definite and conclusive information" is received by the San José Mercury that James Dunham, arrested in Louisville, Ky., is not James Dunham, as was to be expected, so, now, that journal turns its attention to firebugs of whom they have a goodly crop in San José. Why such towns as Fresno and San José should be at the mercy of firebugs is difficult to understand. The firebug is the enemy of all mankind, and once his presence is known, no effort should be spared till he is jailed or driven from the city. The difficulty of conviction is great, but one rascal convicted is a great deterrent to others, and thus, the State at large is deeply interested in the arrest and punishment of this gang of cowardly criminals.

STRIKERS ON A DRUNK.

UNION PLUMBERS A NUISANCE ON THE STREET.

Families Neglected at the Bellest of Blatant Demagogues—Farce-Comedy the Outcome—Mobocracy Getting Another Defeat.

The handful of plumbers who went out on a strike Tuesday were conducting themselves yesterday in the same manner as on the first day of the strike. They, mostly, were drunk, and all of them were making nuisances of themselves on the streets by blatant talk.

One rather touching incident of the strike is the neglect of their families by some of the strikers. One of them, particularly, has a fine family dependent on him, and though he has been receiving good pay regularly for his work, he has become considerably delinquent in his rent, through squandering his wages, and is now spending his time in drunkenness, while his family is left to hold off the landlord. The latter called up the man's former employer yesterday and asked whether he was at work, since that the man's wife had informed him that the man was again employed. Evidently the plumber had represented to his wife that he was going to return to his work, instead of which he came down town and renewed his debauch, the wives of the blatant agitators having more influence over them than the needs of his wife and children.

There was but one man added to the number of strikers yesterday. He was employed by T. J. Stephens, and was the only union man in that shop. When Mr. Stephens was given forty-eight hours' notice of the coming strike, although he had but the one union man in his employ, he complied with the demand made, advancing his wages to the new schedule. But notwithstanding this fact, the man failed to go to work yesterday morning, giving a trivial reason for refusing. The indications are, however, that he was ordered out, as the shop has been classed as a non-union one for a considerable time. Mr. Stephens having formerly had trouble with the union.

When Mr. Stephens was seen yesterday by a representative of the Times, he said that he believed that the union was wrong in making so unjust a demand, but he was willing to comply with the demand rather than undertake to break in a new man to his methods of doing business.

It seemed evident yesterday that the unwarranted strike is already lost, for the only two shops in that street, large forces of men were running with a full complement of laborers, and were even forced to reject applications from capable non-union plumbers. These are those of Newell Brothers and Charles Hovarty. At these places work was going on as though there had been nothing to break the serenity of life, and the new men had already demonstrated full capacity to do the work done by their predecessors.

The shops practically represent the plumbing business of the city, for while there are many other small shops, the work is principally done by the proprietors, and only on occasional men is employed from day to day, according to the requirements of the work in hand.

It looked as though even the strikers had become convinced that they were playing a losing game. A number of the men were not slow to admit that they had made a mistake, and intimate that they would be glad to go back in their old places. As yet none of these men have applied for reinstatement, but it looks as though they would make an effort to get back soon. It is not probable that they will succeed in this, however, as both firms which have won their points declare that the men will not be taken back except to fill vacancies that may arise in the future, and then only on the terms of the master plumber and the abandonment of the union.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Victims of Whiskey and Mescal—More Wheelmen Fined.

The drunk list in the Police Court yesterday was equally divided between Mexicans and Irish. The representatives of the Spanish-American race who pleaded guilty to the charge of having taken too much mescal aboard, were R. Valdez and B. Gonzales. Dan Riley and William Walsh were the sons of old Erin who indulged their appetites for potheen until they couldn't walk straight. Justice Austin imposed the uniform fine of $2 all around.

Pat Garrity, a drunk left over from the previous day, was given a five days' fender. He draws a pension of about $60 a quarter, which he usually spends in riotous living, while his wife toils at the wash tub to support herself and children. The faithful wife had $5.15 in bank, which she offered to draw down to pay her husband's fine, and the court, at the suggestion of Bailiff Appel, imposed a sentence of imprisonment only, so the poor woman could save her money. Garrity's sentence was suspended on the representation that he had a job at San Bernardino. He promised to go to work at once, if given his liberty, so he was paroled on condition of good behavior.

Seven more bicycle-riders were fined $1 each for violating the speed ordinance. The victims were J. H. McInnis, P. L. Willett, E. J. Young, J. Boylson, G. W. Whiting, J. L. Western and J. H. Chase. Cyclists complain that the police are taking unfair advantage of them. They claim that it is almost impossible to slow down to four miles an hour at every street crossing, but unless they do, a copper is almost sure to nab them, while street cars, milk wagons and other vehicles are allowed to dash by unmolested, although traveling at greater speed than the wheelmen.

Samuel Potts, the colored man who smote his brother-in-law, Glen Russell, with a stone, was sentenced to pay a fine of $35 for battery, with the alternative of thirty days' imprisonment in the City Jail. As Brer Potts did not have the price he went behind the bars.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

SOCIETY OUT IN FORCE AT THE SANTA MONICA COUNTRY.

Many Games Which Brought Out the Skill and Zeal of Players—The Games Today—Prominent People Add Much to the Success of the Event.

There was a little bit of everything at the tennis grounds at Santa Monica yesterday, with something going on all the time. Indeed, it was like watching two rings in a circus, with Mr. Wilson and his megaphone for a band. All of the crackjacks appeared, and there were games in all-comers, singles and doubles, ladies' singles, mixed doubles and consolation singles. Society was out en masse, and tea, cakes and delicacies were served throughout the afternoon.

When a day of tennis is begun with a fast, interesting match both players and spectators are inspired for the whole day, and the pace set this morning when two Los Angeles boys faced the coveys of Covina, was of that character. Bennick and Coons of Covina came up country to do battle with the local cracks, and when the tussle came they proved their mettle. In fact, they wanted but very little to win from Hendrick and Sinsbaugh, the Los Angeles combination which is hard to beat. Their meeting was perhaps the closest and most hotly contested match of this tournament, and it was won by much applause. The Los Angeles boys were often unsteady, showing lack of practice in team work, while on the other hand the Covina boys showed a combination of long experience and constant practice. The Covina boys realize the value of making hay while the sun shines, and almost before Los Angeles was awake they had the first set stacked for the season. But the Los Angeles youngsters called in all their holdings and undered their opponents for the market, finally winning, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Bennick was the brilliant end of his team, while Coons was a steady, reliable player. The one drove like a whirlwind, while the other lobbed with a persistency which, more than once, threatened to wear out the boys across the net. Both Hendrick and Sinsbaugh were nervous off and on throughout the match, but when one failed the other arose to the occasion, and their support to each other was admirable. The first set of this match was won by Covina, 6-4, and the next was a duplicate of the first, only with the tables turned. In the final set Coons took the first game at love, winning it almost entirely by the lob. This did not frighten the Los Angeles boys, however, and they took the next three games in good style. Hendrick then became nervous and sent his returns out more often than in, and the score went to 3 all. This score always calms a player, for the next game is so important that the players realize the advantage of coolness. The match was to be won or lost right there at 3 all, and the Los Angeles team took the next two games by steady net play. In the final set Covina men held the back line and gave the prettiest exhibition of lobbing of the day. They won the game on this feature, Bennick had the service in the tenth game, and made a double fault at 30-all, and the advantage point threw the match to Hendrick and Sinsbaugh. Bennick is the most promising player of this year's crop, and will be heard from in the future. The only ladies' singles event of the day was played by Mrs. James Hendrick and little Miss B. Sutton. The latter won with comparative ease, 6-1, 6-3. It is commendable to find young women on the tennis courts, showing unusual enthusiasm on their part, and Mrs. Hendrick is an ardent devotee of the game.

All-comers' doubles were the chief feature of the day's play, six matches being run off. Bell and Braly had an easy time with them, and were in charge of the affair at 6-3, 6-2. Gooding and Oliver did not have an easy time with them, Britt and Wallace, and only won on the steadiness of Oliver's play. The score was 6-3, 6-7, 6-4. Long contests seemed to be the go for when P. Rowan and V. V. faced Lane and Wayne the tug-of-war was dragged out to the limit of time and the children won, 7-5, 6-3, 6-3. Lane and Wayne were an euphonious combination, but proved to be principally euphony. Their opponents are the youngest players in the tournament, and the members of the trouble department.

The fourth long-winded double was between Sutton and South and Pedley and Wilson, and the latter team won, 3-6, 6-3, 6-7. The winners played slowly, putting underhand strokes that were as steady as a pendulum, but lacking in strength and location, and the points were hard and far in monotonous similarity.

The consolation singles brought a second round to McIntyre in his meeting with Britt, but he died with a struggle, 6-0, 6-4. For had a hard and-ends chase with Praed, and won by a hair, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Mixed doubles always win the hearts of the grand stand, and today when Miss E. Sutton and Conde Jones played Annette Huggins and B. Rowan, the grand stand showed warm sympathy. For the loss, the latter team, and cordial congratulations for the winners. The score was 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Miss Dobbins and Hardy played their first match together with Hendrick and Miss M. Donnell, and proved themselves a strong team by winning, 6-1, 6-4. Then came the surprise of the mixed-doubles event, when Way and Miss May Sutton defeated Braly and Miss O. Donnell, 6-2, 6-3. Braly was playing very poorly, and Way took advantage of the fact by outplaying him at every point. Both of the young ladies played good tennis, but in a mixed-double match the result generally depends on the work of the men. Braly was in a bad streak, and could not find any stroke which he could safely call his own.

This was the tennis of the day, with the exception of the consolation prize, all-comers' singles, which were the introductory events of the afternoon, simply as a means of introducing Hardy and Braly to the grand stand. Hardy and Daggert were the first called, and responded with a fairly interesting match, considering their relative standing in the game. Daggert found that at the net nine out of ten returns slipped by him, and that in the back court the swift drives of Hardy were hard to place, but he suspected these features in Hardy's game. The best he could do, even with Hardy's aid, was 6-1, 7-5 against him. At the conclusion of this event Bell and Braly had their fun, but somehow Braly did not find any fun in the game, and tired of the sport about the third game. Bell made some brilliant plays, and now and then tried to make poor one, just to help the matter along. It is to be regretted that this match so entirely lacked that swing and competition which makes the tennis an interesting one for those who have traveled some distance to witness it. Now Bell is to meet Hardy in the finals this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the suspense will be broken. Hardy and Bell have been pressed at all, and this makes it hard to judge. When Bell meets Hardy he will find a longer head on the northern shoulders than he anticipated, and after it is over perhaps he may take a farewell sup from that coveted cup.

Scarcity of Coins in China.

[Engineering and Mining Journal.] A currency embarrassment has resulted in China from the rise in the price of copper. The fractional currency of that country consists of copper "cash," and these are really the standard for the great bulk of daily transactions among the people. Wages are so small and prices so low that there is seldom need of the silver dollar or the gold piece in retail business. When the rise of copper became known in the East, however, these "cash" rose to a premium and were consequently sold and disappeared from circulation, greatly to the embarrassment of the small merchants. In some of the large commercial centers an effort was made to supply the deficiency, but it did not go very far after the authorities found out that copper needed to coin or stamp the equivalent of a silver tael in "cash" cost from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 taels. Chinese provincial authorities are not likely to do business at a loss for the benefit of the public, and so the embarrassment continued. A reduction in the weight or size of the "cash" would not be tolerated by so conservative a people as the Chinese. The issue of subsidiary silver coin is talked of, but it would take a long time to bring that about, and even then it is doubtful whether the people would take the new coins. The problem is not an easy one to solve under the conditions existing in China.

VERY RICH SOIL.

The Granger from Snake Bottoms Explained All About It.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.] The other day a loose-jointed stranger from Snake Bottoms sauntered into Mr. Stowe's store, and with imperturbable equanimity placed his gaunt frame on a chair and complacently deposited an immense spot of amber within six inches of the ceiling.

Ferdinand Augustus Rainsford, who helps keep store, immediately accosted him with the time-honored but eloquent inquiry: "How's craps?"

"Putty far," replied the granger, "putty far," even for Snake Bottoms; an 'I do low that we kin raise 'bout 'a much tuh ht' acre 's most folks."

"Land's pretty rich down there, ain't it?" asked Ferd.

"Rich! Bless my biles, stranger, but th' ain't no richer."

"How many onions to the bushel, for instance?"

"Injuns! To th' bushel! Why, stranger, ol' Squire Razen had to chop one injun to six pieces for 'em. He cud load it on a four-ho' waggin!"

"Ah-h-h!" gasped Ferd, for this was a little sudden, even for his elastic imagination. "And how about potatoes, now?"

"Taters? Waal, taters is putty good, too. That was Bill Longbo had to unload 'em on a hitch, a log chain around 'em an' drag 'em out with a yoke o' steers. Oh, yes, and taters is good."

"Much of a fruit crop?" pursued Ferd.

"Right smart, sorter. Betcher Pullen couldn't nigh gather all o' his apples, 'n' the rain washed th' fewest inter th' groun'."

"PAW" ON ASTOR.

How He Moralized on the History of Aristocrats.

[Chicago Times-Herald.] "Say, Paw. That's what maw said when paw was carven the roast lam last nite."

"What's rone?" maw asked. "I wisht you'd tell me what's all this fuss about Astor. What made him go and git to be a Ningslishman?"

"Cause he'd rather be over there where he kin sneak up and peek thru the not holes in the Fence around Queen Victoria's Cassel than run a Hotel in New York," maw says, givin the Carven nife an' extra jab and makin grease fly over the Table cloth.

"And who's agoin to Run the Hotel while he's away?" maw ask her.

"Oh, dunno," guess he gits the Bartender to come in and look after things," paw says.

"My goodness," maw told him. "Do they Have a Saloon in Sich a fine place as that?"

"Well," paw answered, "I dunno as you ot to say it. Thar was a gen'ral. He had the Saloon and then Bld the Hotel around it. But Astor he has munny Besides. He Don't need to Depend on what the takers in fer drinks."

"How did he make his other munny?" maw ask.

"By gittin to be the Sun of a man what saved up. He told her, gen'ral's father Had more munny than a ox team Could pull. Becos the Hed of the Family Bld Hides for a Livin'."

"My sakes," maw says, "I Red some of His Aristocrat's Disendents. Why I always Herd the Astors was awful Big aristocrats."

"Well, they are," paw Told Her. "They Don't Haft to run the house and they keep two Gurls and take ice all winter and send their washing out."

"And yit there anesster Bot Hides," maw says as if she couldn't Hardly Believe it.

"Yes," paw answered, "But you otent to blame Him. If he would of knowed that Some of His Aristocrat's Disendents was agoin to Be ashamed of I Bet you He wouldn't of Done it. Insted of Goin around the Country astin the folks if they had bin Killin calves Laitly, and gittin the skins fer two sents a Pound less than they ast He would of probably wrote poetry or kept a grocery and Bin proud and Reserved. He Wouldn't of got much munny that way. But he could of kept sayin to Himself when things wasn't Comin his way in process—

"Never mind ole man your's agoin to have aristocratic disendents Some day and when they won't Have no Cause to Blush fer Him when they are out Blowin the folks off to a Good Time with the Durt dollars you Saved up."

"Every man what's piling up welth to Day to to Think about this. You never can tell who's anesster you mite Happen to Be. Thar are only one trouble about workin' hard and savin' to Be a Aristocratic anesster. If he durt that He can't leave nothin fer His disendents to Be aristocratic with."

"But, paw," maw says, "I Red some place that the Astors Claim they Come from a proud ole Hugonot family."

"If no, that's 'em from that," paw said. "But that's jist josh sure. Pawdly probly Give them when He wanted to Borrow munny or Git a nite's lodgin fer nuthin at the Hotel. Thar ain't no more Hugonot in the Astors than they are in our pupp. Them kind of pretenstuns makes me laff. If I would of bin Hugonot and pones act promptly, on the judgment, perhaps passion, of the moment. Yet they err but rarely, for their gifts of intution and rapid deduction and good sense, all to guide them rightly. High foreheads, lacking some part of this quick spirit, pause, consider and weigh the matter before taking action. Less successful, they cannot afford to make mistakes. Short foreheads, prominent brows, belong to the man of action. The high, well-developed temples to the man of thought. A perpendicular, flat forehead with wrinkleless skin stretched outward, shows immense acuteness and genius for intrigue. Li Hung Chang, the great Chinese Minister, and Prince Bismarck are good examples of this class. A forehead square on the temples and retreating into the hair on either side is a sign of retentive memory and excellent judgment. Lord Kitchener of Khartoum has the typical forehead of a leader of men. Short, compressed, with prominent eyebrows and thick, straight brows, square and receding on the temples. A man with this forehead could not fail to judge character or circumstance with quickness and accuracy, to store such observations in a tenacious memory, and to act upon his conclusion with promptness and decision.

Eyes, mirrors of the soul, may, perhaps, be considered more beautiful and attractive than any other feature. Dividing them into two great classes, light and dark, it has been said that the dark indicate power, the light, delicacy. Black eyes, so called—for they are really of so deep an orange that they appear black contrasted with the surrounding tissues—are tropical. Sometimes they seem dull and sluggish, but for the forces they betoken are only slumbering, so that any chance may set them ablaze. With such eyes the intellect will be powerful and the passions strong. Clear blue eyes belong to temperate regions. Other intellectual indications being equal, what they may lack in power and passion they will make up in subtlety and versatility. Hazel eyes show steadiness and power of constant affection; green, cat-like orbs, though frequently fascinating, are dangerous, for they are a sign of coquetry and desert. The eyes of genius are said to be of varying tints, like the sea, sometimes blue, tinged with green or orange, in certain lights, or when affected by emotion, deep and almost dark. These are but few of the infinite varieties in tint. It should never be forgotten that eyes are more capable of misleading than any other feature. Form and color may indicate much; the glance, steady or soft, perhaps even more. Widely expanded eyelids see much without reflecting greatly beyond the present moment. Eyelids half closing over the eyes denote less facility of impression, but clearer insight, more definite ideas, greater steadiness in action; they notice less, but think and feel intensely. Deep-set eyes with wrinkles at the outer corners show penetration and a sense of humor. Eyes set near together, especially when there are wrinkles across the nose, are a sign of cunning and meanness in mall thing, money matters and otherwise. Set wide apart, the character will be generous; if too wide, careless and extravagant. The proper distance between the eyes is the length of one eye.

[Philadelpia Record.] "The nicest part of my business," a Manayunk undertaker said the other day, "is the writing of poems for my patrons—dirges, don't you know, lamenting the death of the departed. Maybe you have seen some of my stuff in the obituary columns. I charge $1 per stanza of four lines if the first and third and the second and fourth lines all rhyme; 50 cents a stanza if only the latter ones rhyme. Besides appearing in the papers, my works are printed usually on sheets of paper about the size of concert programmes, with broad mourning lines inclosing the print, and copies are sent to all the friends of the family. The recipients, if they are truly appreciative people, frame the poems and hang them in their parlors. It is strange how practice makes perfect. Before I went into this undertaking business I thought it was very difficult to write poetry. Now I can write an eight-stanza poem of the dollar grade in two hours. First I get my rhymes—grieve, dove, bereave, love—sometimes like the you know, and then all I have to do is to fill in. If business ever gets slack I'll take to writing poetry for the magazines, but I guess they don't pay as much as I'm accustomed to getting."

[New York Sun.] Highly fanciful is the scolding denunciation of an officially-inclined paper upon the Deutsche Warte for having dared to discuss Herr Haby and the imperial mustache. More nearly connected with the life of a man, even more than his valet, is his barber. Herr Haby is the imperial barber. About three years ago Adjt. von Huillen, companion from youth of the Kaiser, appeared before His Majesty with his mustache turned up in the fan-shaped style which has now become so familiar from recent photographs of the German Emperor. His Majesty was very much struck at the appearance of the adjutant.

"Who did it?" he asked.

"Haby, Your Majesty," came the reply.

"Send him to me," said the Kaiser. From that day Haby became the king of barbers, and the imperial face assumed an entirely new aspect. Haby today, although an uncrowned king, has many decorations. The latest is the Cross of Jerusalem, given to him upon the Kaiser's birthday. Haby accompanied the Kaiser upon his Palestine journey and has accompanied the Emperor on all his journeys for several years. The other decorations include the Knights Cross of the Hessian Philip Order, a Bavarian silver medal of merit, and a Turkish medjidie of the fourth class.

"Yes, sor. Please don't stop me, sor. The growler's leakin'!"

WHY MONEY IS CHEAP.

The pronounced decline in the rate of income from first-class investments during recent years was no doubt partly due to the increased amount of capital competing for such investments. One would have expected, however, that a decided reversal of this tendency would have come about in a period of great industrial activity such as the present, says the American Banker, but as yet there are no indications of an early change of that sort. Here we are having a higher scale of prices in many things, and a most encouraging outlook for industry, enterprise, and yet no sign that capital for investment in general securities is getting scarce because employed in other directions. Take the recent sale of $100,000 3-per-cent. water bonds by the city of Cincinnati. These securities were disposed of at a price which enabled investors an annual rate of interest of 2.84 per cent. Here is a municipal bond bearing but 3 per cent. interest quoted above par. A generating company the interest would have had to be over double that rate to secure a rating of equal credit. There is a theory that when money is so abundant, the low rate of profits of trade is bound to be low, because competitors will arise through the use of borrowed money. If profits are low, then the rate for loans. But this is not practically true in every industrial situation. We are at the present moment engaged in greatly increasing the practical application of the theory by a consolidation of small individual concerns into immense corporations. It is far more difficult to narrow competition against concerns with millions of capital than it is against individuals having but thousands. Competition on a small scale is possible by the very necessity which forces the smaller independent concerns to join the trust. The vastness of the consolidation of a $100,000 concern is not proportionally less than that of one having $100,000 capital. Consequently, it means a saving of money in this and in other ways, to do business on the larger scale.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16, 1899.

There is no change in values to note from yesterday in the produce markets.

Poultry is not active, but as an offset to this, Eastern prices are selling freely.

Doves are coming in more freely, but they sell quickly at 75 to 90 cents per dozen.

Fresh fish continue to rule scarce. Prices are firm.

Eggs are steady at the recent advance.

Eastern sell generally at 17 1/2 cents, and anything higher is an extreme for something fancy in a small way.

Choice potatoes are still scarce, and the market is steady for good grades, yellow and white, the whole range being from 60 cents to 80.

Sweet potatoes are weak at 3 to 3 1/2 cents per bushel.

Fresh barley is weak, but not quoted lower. It can be laid down here for 80 to 90 cents in the future.
